MNH MENHIR

Starting At: $1917

Menhir is a practical and clean solution in terms of its form; its adaptability makes it an excellent sound-absorbing element for low frequencies. Perfect for large environments where speech reverberation can cause confusion and chaos, Menhir sound-absorbing totems can relate to their environment, adapting to various requirements. The shorter version also comes with a cover that can serve as a shelf for resting magazines, plants, or various types of furniture objects.

The Menhir totem is available with sound-absorbing material made from Basotect® melamine resin by Basf® and a visible base made from satin stainless steel or from steel painted aluminum grey, or with an internal base made from painted steel.
